

ADVANCE INFORMATION SHEET

Diamond Crime publishes "If We Were Guilty", by Paul Durston, on 15th May 2025

~ ~ ~

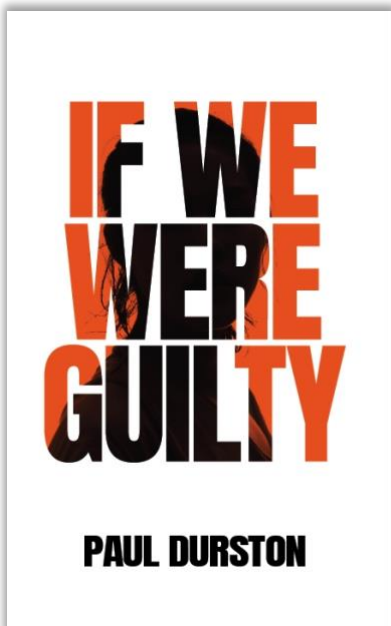

Reviews of Paul's second Charlie Quinlan novel "If We Were One":

"Durston writes in a vivid, almost breathless, style and the action bowls along at speed"

David Whittle for Mystery People

"Well-crafted, imaginative and gripping - highly recommended"

Amazon Review

PC Charlie Quinlan. Ace thief taker. Childhood abuse victim.

Now her abusers are being killed.

In her childhood, Charlie's mind created alternate identities ('alters'), to shield her from the abuse. But is it those alters, who are now killing the abusers? The police can only see one person – Charlie. She's the one they say is guilty.

Charged with murder and remanded in custody awaiting trial, Charlie and her alters know a jury is waiting for them in court.

If you were on that jury, would you find Charlie guilty?

Join the discussion at:

<https://diamondbooks.co.uk/discuss/>

Paul Durston served with the Metropolitan Police in London for thirty years.

Having retired, he devotes his time to creative writing and exploring the inland waterways on a narrowboat in Worcestershire with his partner, Caroline.

Find out more at <https://www.pauldurston.com>

Book Length: 325 pages Paperback Dimensions: 5" x 8"

If We Were One* ISBN 978-1-915649-49-2. RRP £10.99

Buy from Amazon: <https://tinyurl.com/3fhbt295>

e-Pub review copies available from the publisher

For copies or to arrange interviews with Paul Durston please contact Diamond Crime.

Email: info@diamondbooks.co.uk

Web: <https://diamondbooks.co.uk>

Editorial Team Tel: 07788 448344