The Last Pomegranate Tree

By Bachtyar Ali

Translated by Kareem Abdulrahman

After being held in a desert prison for 21 years, a Peshmerga fighter in Iraq desperately searches for his son, setting off on a quest guided by memory and myth in this imaginative novel. — New York Times

Named among 21st century's top 100 books by Neue Zürcher Zeitung. Winner of the prestigious Nelly-Sachs-Prize (2017); and the Hilde-Domin-Prize (2023) in Germany.

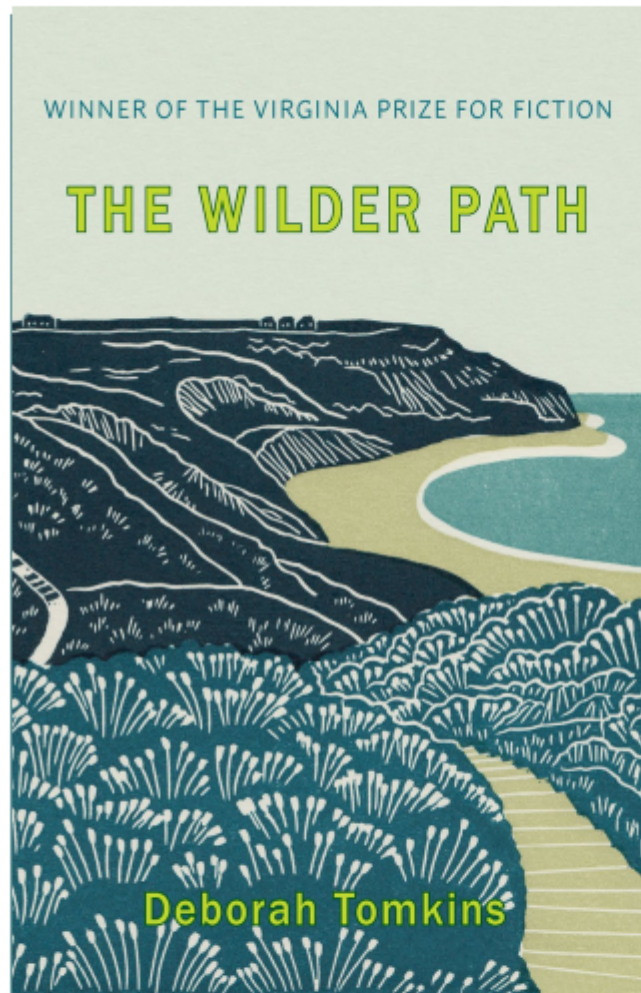

‘Superbly realized novel of life, death, and what lies between...
Blending magical realism with dark fables worthy of Kafka.’

THE WILDER PATH

Deborah Tomkins

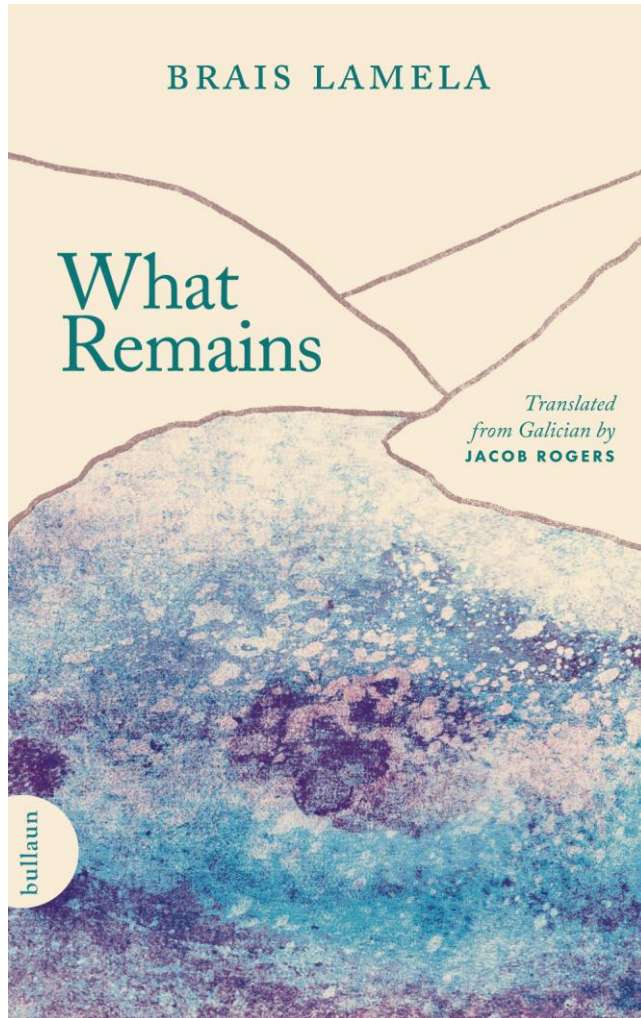

Caught between the cliffs and an unforgiving storm, Rosalie's fight for survival becomes a reckoning with her troubled past. Trapped in a cave overlooking the roiling sea, Rosalie is forced to confront the storms within, as much as those outside. With time slipping through her fingers and danger closing in, she faces the ultimate question: can she find a way back—not just to safety, but to herself?

“A beautiful book. Tender, twisting and turning. Life seen through the eyes of a mother haunted. So beautifully written and full of surprises. Thank you so much to the author. Thank you to #netgalley and the publisher for an ARC.”  Netgalley

“Moving and thought-provoking, this is a memorable debut from a writer to watch.” – Lisa Tuttle, The Guardian on Aerth

BROCCOLI PUNCH

LEE YURI

Translated by Amber HJ Kim

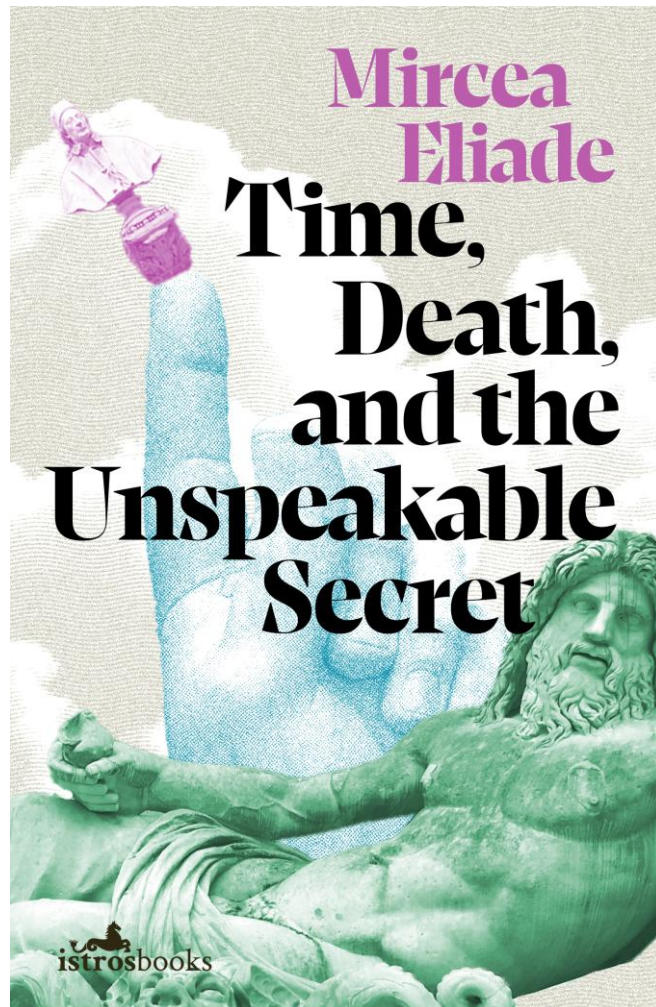

A father whose ashes come back to life as a tree; a boyfriend's right hand turning into broccoli; a devoted fan's selfless love becoming the subject of extraterrestrial research; a boyfriend who died in an accident, manifesting in the newlywed couple's living room after five years. With humour and style, Lee Yuri introduces a world where supernatural events and extraordinary beings unexpectedly intrude into everyday life.

"Couldn't put down the book! The author weaves absolutely fascinating stories. Lee Yuri depicts K-pop culture, Korean healing, birth dreams, boxing, exploring all the quintessentially Korean aspects to show the reader the kaleidoscope of imagination and everyday life in modern-day Korea."

The Grandmother

Božena Němcová

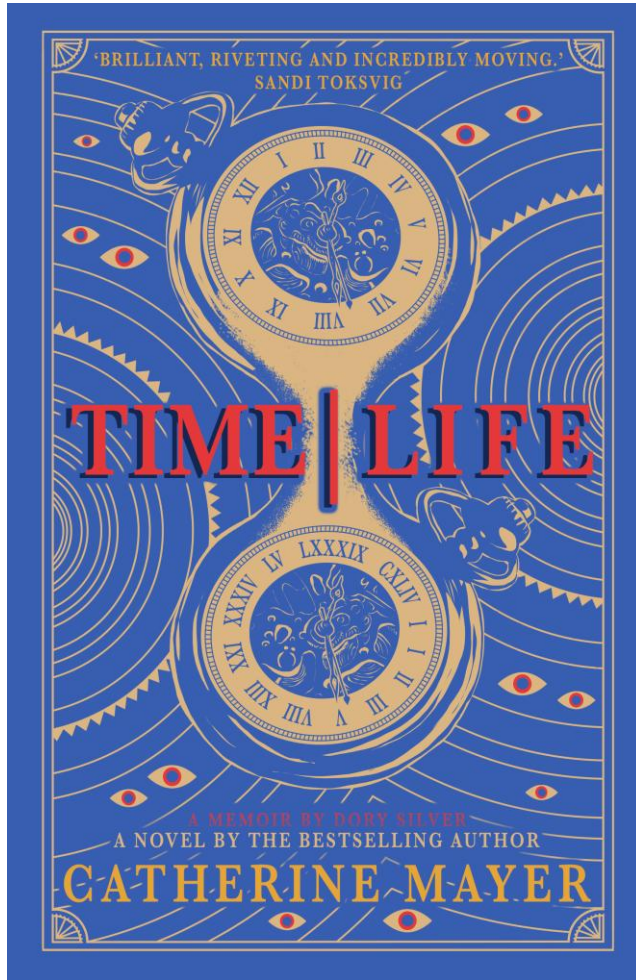

A deliciously subversive tale of rural life in 19C Bohemia with proto-feminist overtones in many of Grandmother's stories. Grandmother cooks, looks after her grandchildren, tells them stories and offers advice on everything from herbal remedies, dancing and choosing husbands.

Božena Němcová was an important author, journalist and leader of the 19C Czech National Revival movement. In addition, she was a campaigner for young girls' education and founded the first Grammar School for girls in Bohemia.

TIME/LIFE

CATHERINE MAYER

Onstage at a Las Vegas convention, Elo Ó hAllmhuráin, a world-famous tech magnate, demonstrates a time machine, catapulting himself and journalist Dory Silver into the distant future. A love letter to science fiction rooted in a very real present of rising populism and the unintended consequences of technology.

‘Intriguing, enchanting, soulful.’ Elif Shafak

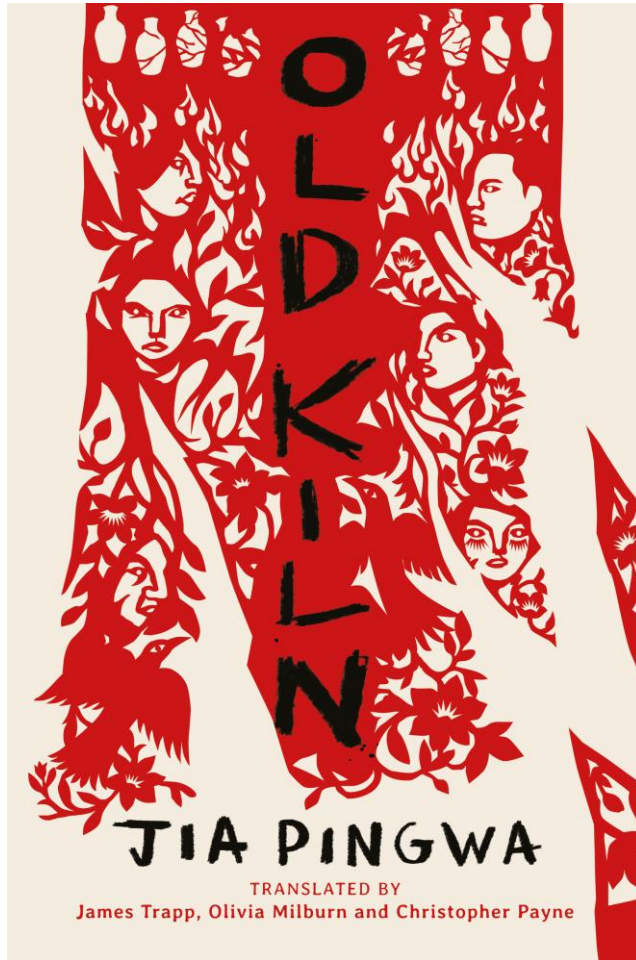

‘Multiplexly brilliant, intricately fascinating.’ William Gibson

‘Breathtaking, heartbreaking
and also full of love and hope.’ Sandi Toksvig

OLD KILN

JIA PINGWA, TRANS. JAMES TRAPP, OLIVIA MILBURN, CHRISTOPHER PAYNE

One year can bury centuries of history...

Old Kiln follows the daily life of a tight-knit village over one year of the Cultural Revolution as it is increasingly punctuated by violence. When the two families that dominate the village turn into warring revolutionary factions, for Inkcup, being an outcast might just save him - but for everyone else, can the broken pieces be put together again?

‘Among the most important Chinese works from recent years.’

Yan Lianke, The Paris Review

‘A vast, sprawling and bewitching novel,’

Alex Preston, The Observer

Additional reviews also secured on Irish Times and The Spectator

BIG TIME

Jordan Prosser

There's a new drug on the market — trypto-lyside glutochronomine, known to you and me as F.

Apply a single drop to each of your eyes and the future is yours.

'Probably the most adrenaline-infused book I've read in a long time. Cinematic...boldly imaginative...and worryingly close to the bone on its apparently 'speculative' aspects. I couldn't put this one down.'

Aniko Press

'Smart and funny and big and speedy – you can almost see it playing out on the screen as you are reading.'

Kate Mildenhall

'Big Time is pure punk... a hallucinogenic rush. I wanted to inhale it,'
